2007 AZERA | SAFETY

The Azera raises the bar—again—delivering an unsurpassed combination of standard safety technologies in its class. At Hyundai, we firmly believe that safety should not be a luxury. As a result of this unwavering commitment to safety for everyone, every 2007 Hyundai has been engineered with industry-leading safety features. So you can add peace of mind to Azera's long list of comforts.

Active Head Restraints

Designed to further protect the front occupants in case of a rear collision, the active front head restraints help prevent whiplash by reducing the space between your head and the head restraint.

Electronic Stability Control

ESC¹ with Traction Control is an active safety system that helps keep the vehicle on its intended path by automatically applying the brakes to individual wheels and adjusting throttle input as required.

Electronic Stability Control (ESC) with Traction Control System (TCS) cannot control your vehicle's stability under all driving situations. ESC with TCS is not a substitute for safe driving practices. No system, no matter how advanced, can overcome physics or correct poor driving. The driver is always responsible for controlling the vehicle, and must use caution to avoid loss of control in all driving conditions. Speed, road conditions and driver steering input will affect whether ESC with TCS can help prevent loss of control. See Owner's Manual for details.

Structural Integrity

Azera received the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety's top rating for offset frontal impacts,* due in part to its reinforced unibody construction. Intelligently engineered to absorb collision energy, its high-tensile steel provides solid structural integrity; front and rear crumple zones, bodyside reinforcements and hood buckling creases help protect you in an impact from any direction.

2007 AZERA | SAFETY

Eight Airbags

Azera's standard safety technologies—unsurpassed in its class—include a comprehensive Supplemental Restraint System with advanced dual front airbags¹ and the Occupant Classification System, front sideimpact airbags, rear side-impact airbags and side-curtain airbags.

'The Supplemental Restraint System (SRS) is designed to work with the 3-point seatbelt system. The SRS deploys in certain frontal and/or side-impact conditions where significant injury is likely. The SRS is not a substitute for seatbelts, which should be worn at all times. Children under the age of 13 should be restrained securely in the rear seat. NEVER place a rear-facing child seat in the front seat of a vehicle that has a passenger-side airbag.

Seatbelt Pretensioners

Front seatbelt pretensioners tighten the safety belts during certain frontal impacts, helping reduce the occupants' forward movement. The force limiters help manage the belt's load across the torso and hips.

This important safety feature is standard on all Azeras. An NHTSA report* reveals that it is second only to the seatbelt system as an effective safety device when it comes to protecting the driver in a frontal collision.

*From NHTSA's report, "Lives Saved by Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standards and Other Vehicle Safety Technologies 1960-2002," October 2004.

Anti-lock Braking System

The 4-wheel disc brakes are equipped with an Anti-lock Braking System with Brake Assist and Electronic Brake-force Distribution to help maintain steering control in emergency braking situations.

Side Marker Mirrors

When it comes to being stylish and courteous, we've thought of every detail. You'll be easier to spot when changing lanes with the Limited's power-folding side mirrors with turn signal indicators.*

2007 AZERA | STYLING

When we set out to design the Hyundai flagship, our engineers started with an entirely new idea of what a full-size sedan should be. This approach may be why everything about the Azera feels fresh and modern. Its powerful presence and elegant lines are made even more dramatic by alloy wheels and a chrome-tipped dual exhaust, while chrome accents set off its sophisticated color palette. Its good looks stand out even in the most beautiful settings.
