

European Delivery

European Delivery.

The possibilities. If you've ever visited Europe – or even just dreamed of such a trip – you'll know the Old World possesses a vast wealth of places to go and things to do. And these pleasures can be yours to enjoy – from behind the wheel of your very own Volkswagen or Audi.

Leave the humdrum conformity of railroad routes, tourist districts and hectic schedules behind. See Europe the way you've always wanted: on your own terms, at your own pace, in your own automobile.

If you're a driving enthusiast you'll be able to put German engineering through the paces on the fabled autobahns, Germany's wide-open super highways. Or perhaps you prefer to wander off the highways, exploring the Europe that Europeans call home. Stop in at a roadside cafe. Make an unplanned rendezvous with vacationing friends. Or just cool your toes in an alpine stream.

You may even discover a piece of your own heritage with a visit to the village in which Grandmother grew up.

The possibilities are as limitless as Europe's attractions. And the freedom to realize them can be yours – in your very own Volkswagen or Audi.

You can bring home more than just memories.

The adventure. Your European adventure begins with a visit to your Volkswagen/Audi dealer. He can help you pick out the automobile of your choice and place the order with the factory in Germany. Or, if time is of the essence, he can help you choose from the variety of popularly-equipped Volkswagens and Audis we keep on hand in Germany for just such a contingency.

Your dealer can also help you choose the pick-up point that suits your needs – one of many locations available in Germany, or if you prefer, one of several other locations available throughout the rest of Europe.

He'll even help you sort out all the details, including licence and insurance requirements, European taxes, and more – right down to the local availability of unleaded fuel.

We've thought of everything to make European Delivery as convenient and effortless for you as possible. And your Volkswagen/Audi dealer will be there to help you every step of the way.

Coming home. Even before you leave for Europe, arrangements can be made to bring your new car home to Canada.

Your dealer will help you choose a reputable shipping agent with whom you can make all the necessary arrangements. Then, when your European excursion is over, all you need to do is turn your car over to the capable hands of the shipping agent. Just like that, the biggest souvenir you ever bought will be on its way to the Great White North.

And once delivered to Canada's shores, your car will then be shipped to a convenient pick-up point to await your arrival.

And that's when the adventure begins anew, as you explore the scenic highways and byways of Canada in your slightly-used Volkswagen or Audi.

European Delivery step-by-step.

To help keep things on track, use this handy check list to guide you through the European Delivery procedure.

- With your local Volkswagen/Audi dealer, select the car and delivery point of your choice.
- One month prior to delivery, payment of vehicle and associated costs is due. Once payment is received in full, you will receive a package from your dealer confirming your order and delivery date, as well as all other details of your purchase.
- You will need the following documents to take delivery in Europe:
 - proof-of-purchase (your European Delivery Vehicle Order Receipt included in the package noted above)
 - passport
 - valid driver's licence
- Upon arrival at the pick-up point in Europe, you will receive the following package:
 - international registration
 - insurance documents
 - V.A.T. postcard
 - tourist car invoice
 - warranty and service information
 - and, of course, your car
- Enjoy.
- Drop off car at shipping agent's embarkation point. (Remember to avoid leaving personal items in the car.)
- Pick up car at pre-arranged pick-up point in Canada.

See Europe the way you've always wanted:
on your own terms, at your own pace,
in your own automobile.