On the one hand there's the Volvo S60, a true driver's car you can rightly be proud of. Every inch of the S60 is designed to move you both physically and emotionally. And to keep you feeling involved and engaged for every single mile you drive.

On the other hand, the V60, a dynamic and elegant evolution – a sportswagon that's redefining the class. A true revelation that gives you the best of both worlds, successfully combining everyday functionality with an exciting driving experience and unique Scandinavian style.

Both are anything but ordinary. Both have a sports chassis for pure driving enjoyment. And both come with a beautifully sculpted interior, designed around the driver. So which one will you make yours?

The next few pages will give you everything you need to make an informed choice. And with this guide, you're already in the driving seat...

Volvo has always led the way in innovation, with products that continue to influence and shape the entire car industry. But that's never been our motivation. You are.

Protecting the fun of driving. And you.

In the S60 or V60 you're in safe hands. Because your new car comes with the option to add an incredible array of advanced features to give both driver and passengers all the support and protection they need. Which is not surprising, because no other carmaker in history can match Volvo's record of industry-leading safety innovations.

Included as standard on your S60 or V60 is City Safety, which senses potential collisions (active from 2 to 31 mph) and can activate the brakes should you not react in time.
