

ACCORD

FOUR DOOR SALOON

HONDA

A remarkably complete automobile

From the driver's seat showing air-con. and Hondamatic options

As you read through this brochure introducing our newest luxury saloon, you may be struck by something a little unusual when comparing it with other motor car brochures.

You'll most likely notice that there are very, very few options available for your new Honda Accord Saloon.

The reason is simply that, unlike many of its so-called competitors, Accord Saloon is a true luxury vehicle when it leaves the factory. With Accord you do not have to spend hundreds of extra dollars playing the 'optional extras game'.

You don't have to ponder on whether to opt for power steering or five-speed transmission, stereo cassette/radio systems or steel-belted radial tyres and, most important of all, you don't have to worry about how much over your budget you're going because all these features and many, many more are in your Accord right now—ready for you to drive away!

In fact, the only option decisions you'll face with Honda Accord Saloon are whether you want the standard, five-speed transmission or Honda's unique Hondamatic with the extra over-drive ratio and whether you want the added comfort and safety of Honda's brilliant year round airconditioning system.

Buying Honda Accord is that simple, that luxurious. We've already mentioned a few of the 'standard extras' that have made Honda Accord a byword for luxury, quality, value, style, performance and yes, even economy — let's have a look at a few more . . .

When you settle yourself into the luxuriously upholstered, body-hugging comfort of the driver's seat, you'll see a dashboard layout with few equals in cars of any price, any standard of luxury.

Virtually every function, every control is at your command.

You'll find the instrumentation complete in every detail with a most comprehensive array of dials, gauges and warning lights. Your Accord even has a light-up diagram which advises you that doors or boot lid are not properly closed and also warns you in the event of a brake lamp failure.

At night, a warning chime will tell you that you've left lights on.

Three important new features make this model even more luxurious than before . . .

Central locking means that when you lock the driver's door, all others are automatically locked too and, at the service station, you need never leave the driving seat; the fuel filler cap is operated from your seat as well as with the key.

The radio/stereo system is further improved with a power operated antenna.

As you come to know your new Accord Saloon, you'll find that there are literally dozens of thoughtful features to enjoy, use and appreciate.

For example, the heating/cooling/demisting system, a masterpiece of design simplicity, allows you to direct air to almost every point of the cabin.

A separate heated rear window system ensures that all-round visibility is first class in any conditions.

Driving Honda Accord Saloon is a unique and pleasurable experience which will grow day by day as you come to know your car better and better.
