The new Audi TT Roadster Pure energy

The new Audi TT Roadster is now even more athletic in appearance by virtue of its taut lines, forward urge, wide stance and the dynamic Audi single-frame radiator grille. The soft top of the TT Roadster forms a clear design contrast, giving the overall impression of a more elongated, geometric look.

The new TT Roadster is built using the principles of Audi Space Frame (ASF), a pioneering hybrid construction of aluminium and steel that offers a weight-saving advantage, balanced weight distribution and a high level of strength and rigidity.

The new Audi TT Roadster is available with a choice of two high performance engines - the 3.2 V6 & the award-winning 2.0 TFSI.

Both engines are combined with the S tronic 6-speed dual-clutch gearbox for a continuous flow of power, without interruption.

The new 2.0-litre turbo TT Roadster is equipped with the awardwinning 2.0 TFSI engine which has been voted "engine of the year" for two consecutive years by a judging panel of 56 respected journalists from 26 countries. The engine's class-leading performance was praised by the jury for its exceptional power and torque.

The 3.2 V6 184kW engine, combined with Audi's ASF and the innovative dual-clutch technology of S tronic, provides a truly exhilarating ride, and combined with Audi quattro permanent all-wheel drive, ensures maximum stability and precise road-holding grip.

The new Audi TT Roadster - Pure Energy

The iconic design of the original Audi TT Roadster elevated it to the status of a cult classic. This stunning design has been carefully reinterpreted to create a new, progressive design language for the second generation TT Roadster. Combined with innovative technology and the highest quality materials, the new TT Roadster is certain to be as collectable and admired as the original.

The new Audi TT Roadster is a car for those with a pure passion for convertible driving pleasure.
