ENGINEERED TO BE ENJOYED

Racing. It's in our blood.

Peugeot's fervour for motor sport dates back to the dawn of racing. In fact, the world's first motor race, between Paris and Rouen in 1894, was won by a Peugeot.

From that moment on, Peugeot's dedication to the sport was cemented, with recent success for the 205 GTi hot hatch and its younger sibling, the 206 GTi, culminating in World Rally Championships for the 205 GTi in 1985 and 1986, followed by a hat-trick of world titles for the 206 GTi between 2000 and 2002.

With such an illustrious bloodline, the new 207 GTi has plenty to live up to. But it is already forging its own reputation, becoming a genuine contender for the Super2000 rally circuit. Take it for a test ride yourself to discover the 207 GTi is not just about rally, but is equally at home on any track.

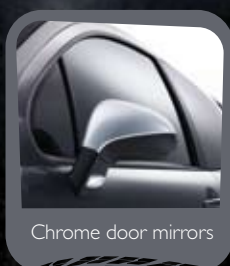

A body to get your heart racing.

The 207 GTi's aggressive, predatory contours, sporty interior and imposing twin chrome exhaust give a true indication of what to expect under the bonnet.

And to confirm its intent, the aerodynamically efficient rear spoiler and high performance VW-rated 205/45R17W tyres mounted on 17" nine spoke "Pitlane" alloys complete the package.

Behind the wheel of the 207 GTi, you'll instantly sense its rally lineage. Plant the accelerator and its 1.6 litre twin-scroll turbo charged high-pressure direct injection petrol engine produces 128kW and 240 Nm of torque, propelling you from 0-100 km/h in 7.1 seconds.

Designed in collaboration between PSA Peugeot and the BMW group, its turbo charged engine allows for high torque at very low speeds, while its "over-boost" system enables the torque output to be increased to 260 Nm in the top three gears.

The judges got it right when they awarded it the 2007 International Engine of the Year in its class.

Take your eyes off the bitumen and you'll be just as captivated by the GTi's sporty features.

SPORTS PERFORMANCE BUCKET SEATS

The sports performance bucket seats, leather-bound steering wheel, drilled aluminium pedals and chromed gear knob roar performance almost as profoundly as the engine.

And all the creature comforts of dual-zone climate control air conditioning, cruise control with speed limiter and a 5 disc CD stacker prove it's not just the pedal that offers excitement.

Intelligent safety

With all this exhilaration, safety is key. The intelligent safety features in the 207 GTi are class leading, with 6 airbags, Electronic Stability Program with traction control and Electronic Brake Assist plus Electronic Brake Force Distribution, earning it a coveted Euro NCAP 5-star safety rating.

But if you're interested in the absolute latest technology, take note of the Steering Stability Program. It couples Electronic Stability Program with electric assistance steering to make the most of braking potential, increasing the 207 GTi's stability and reducing stopping distances.
