2002 EXPLORER

INTRODUCING FORD EXPLORER 2002.

TODAY A BENCHMARK.
TOMORROW A BANDWAGON.

The world's best-selling SUV is completely new. This year, it's measurably quieter, smoother, stronger, larger, wider, more capable with more available power and yet...less expensive to maintain.

It's also designed to be the safest Explorer yet.

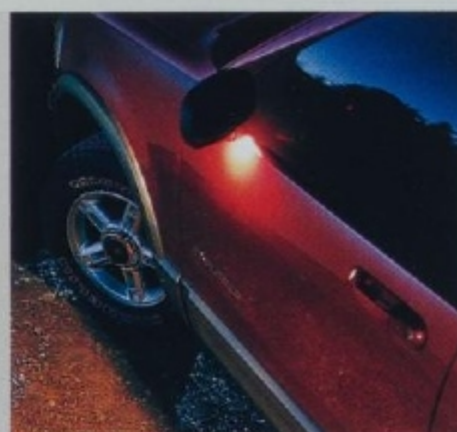

Explorer XLT shown in Toreador Red Clearcoat Metallic.

THE ROAD THROUGH LIFE JUST GOT A WHOLE LOT SMOOTHER.

EASY IN. EASY OUT.

For an effortless entrance and exit, Explorer 2002 has larger door openings, a lower step-in height and a driver's seat that can travel 10" for greater driver comfort.

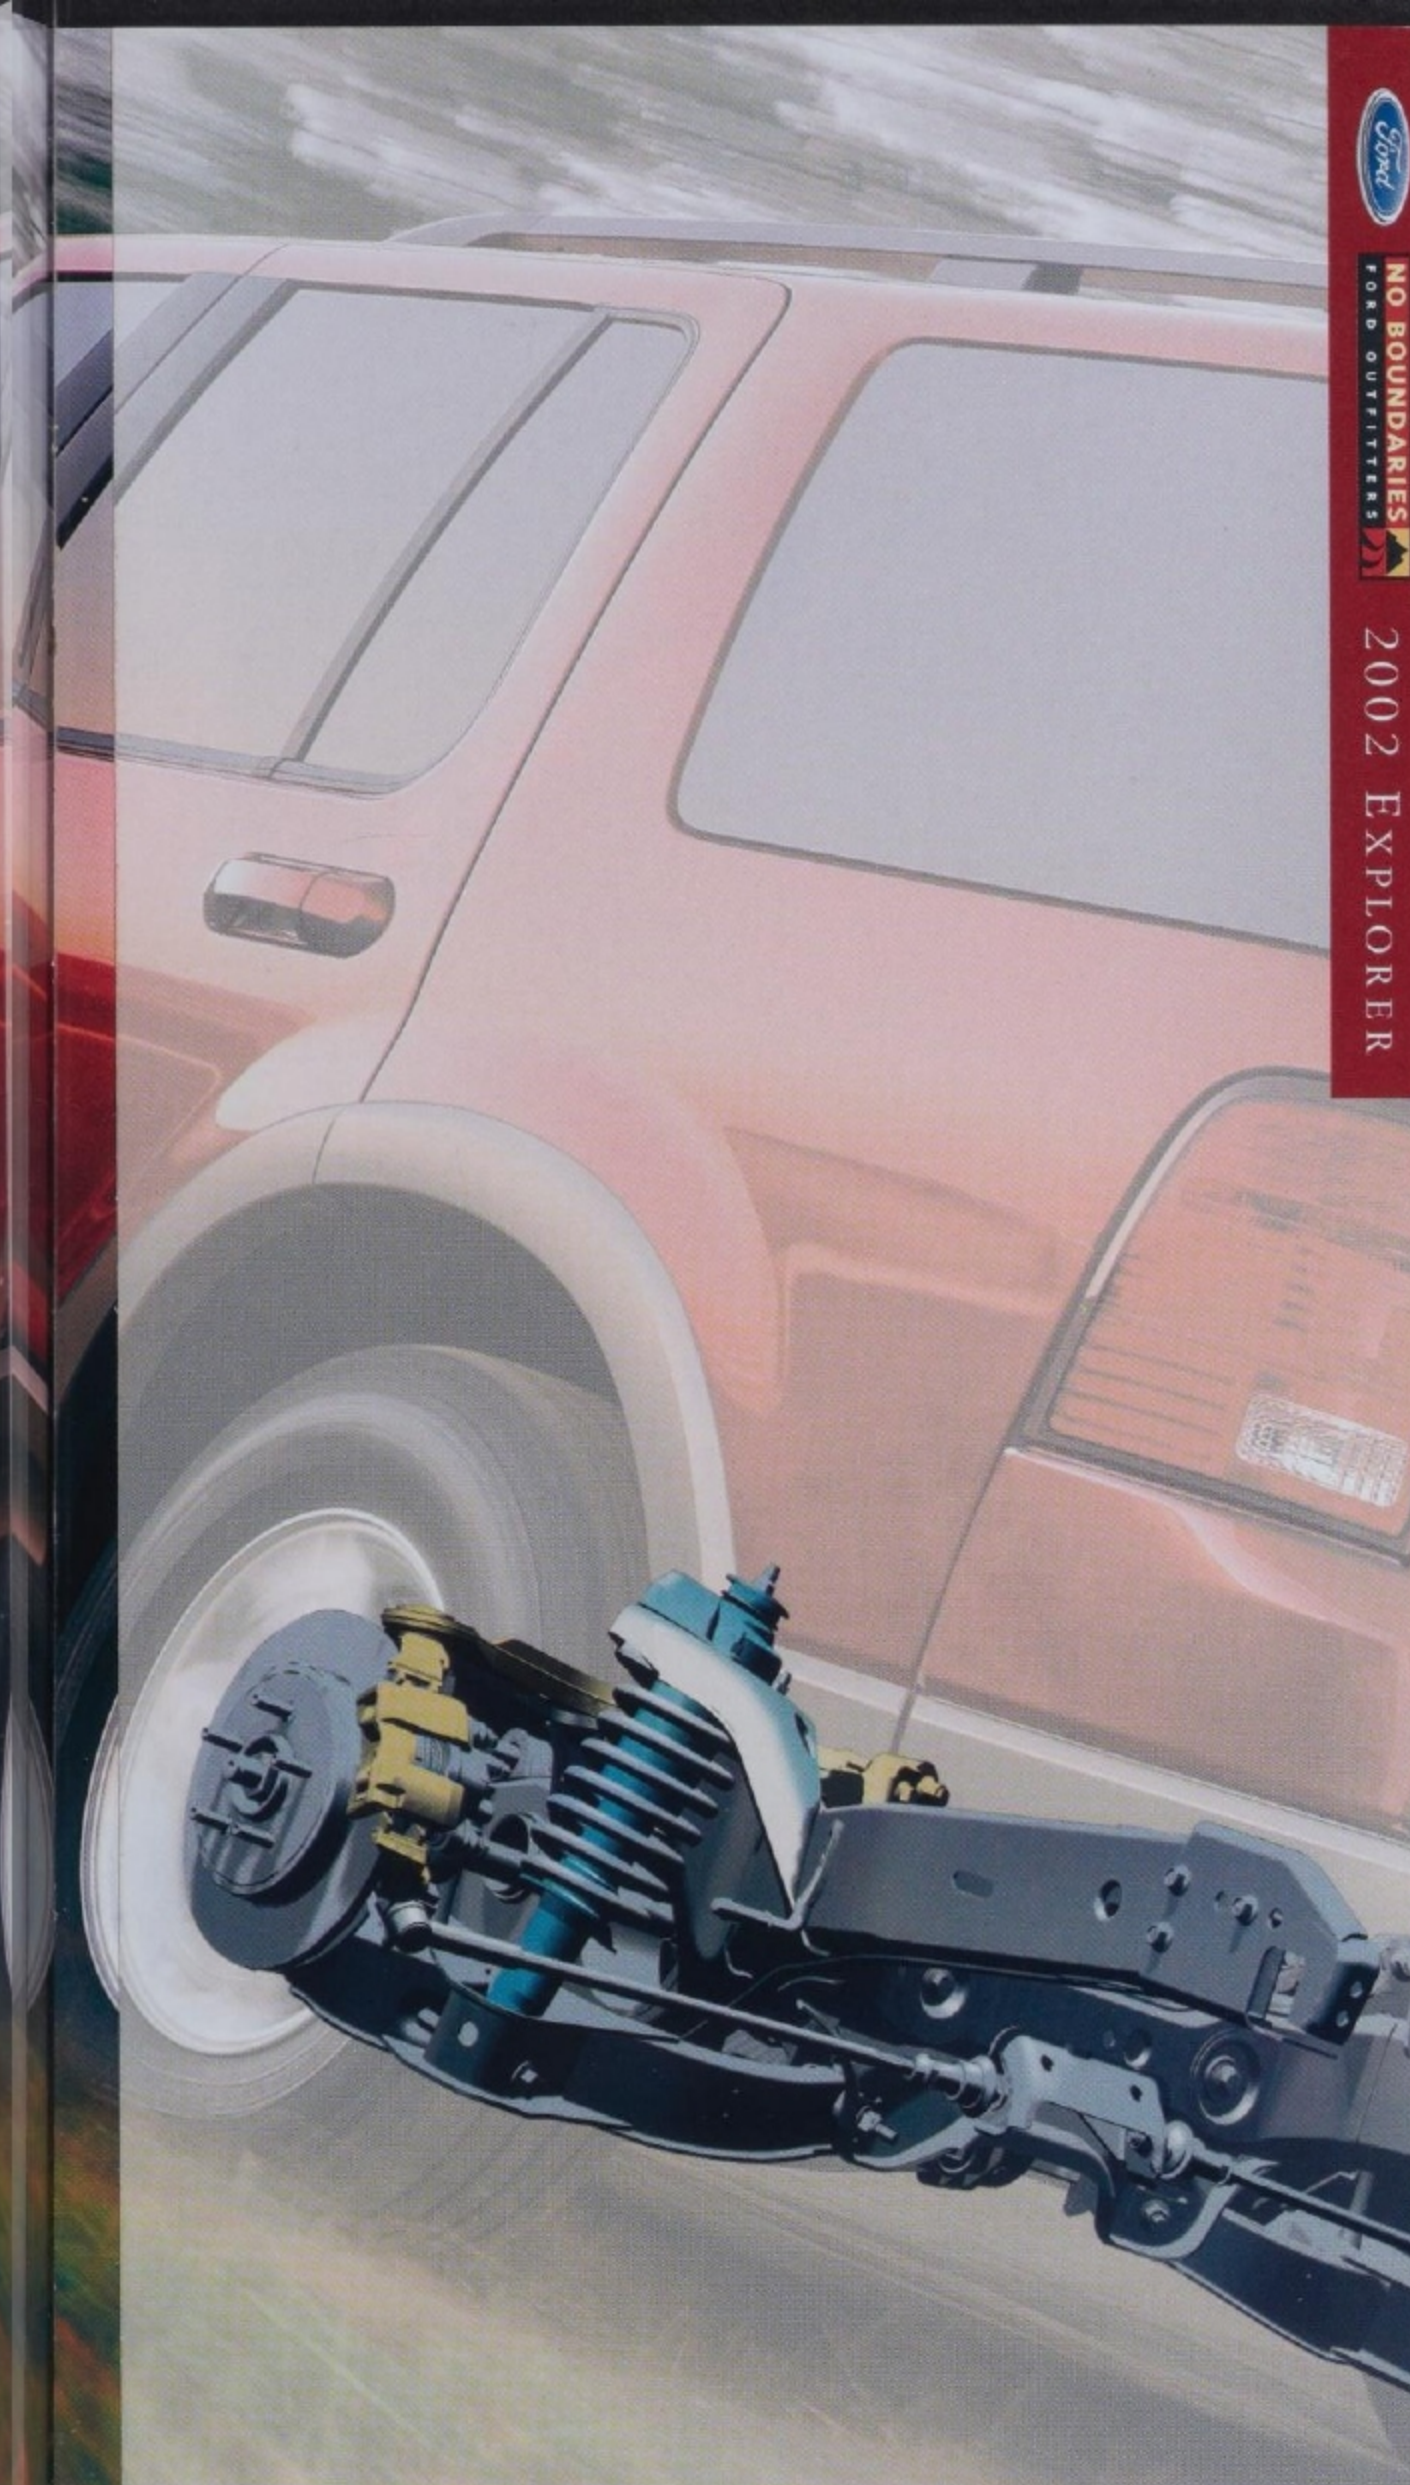

SEEING IS BELIEVING.

Unlock the doors remotely and Explorer's new Approach Lamps (not available on XLS) light the door handles above and the ground below. How thoughtful can you get?

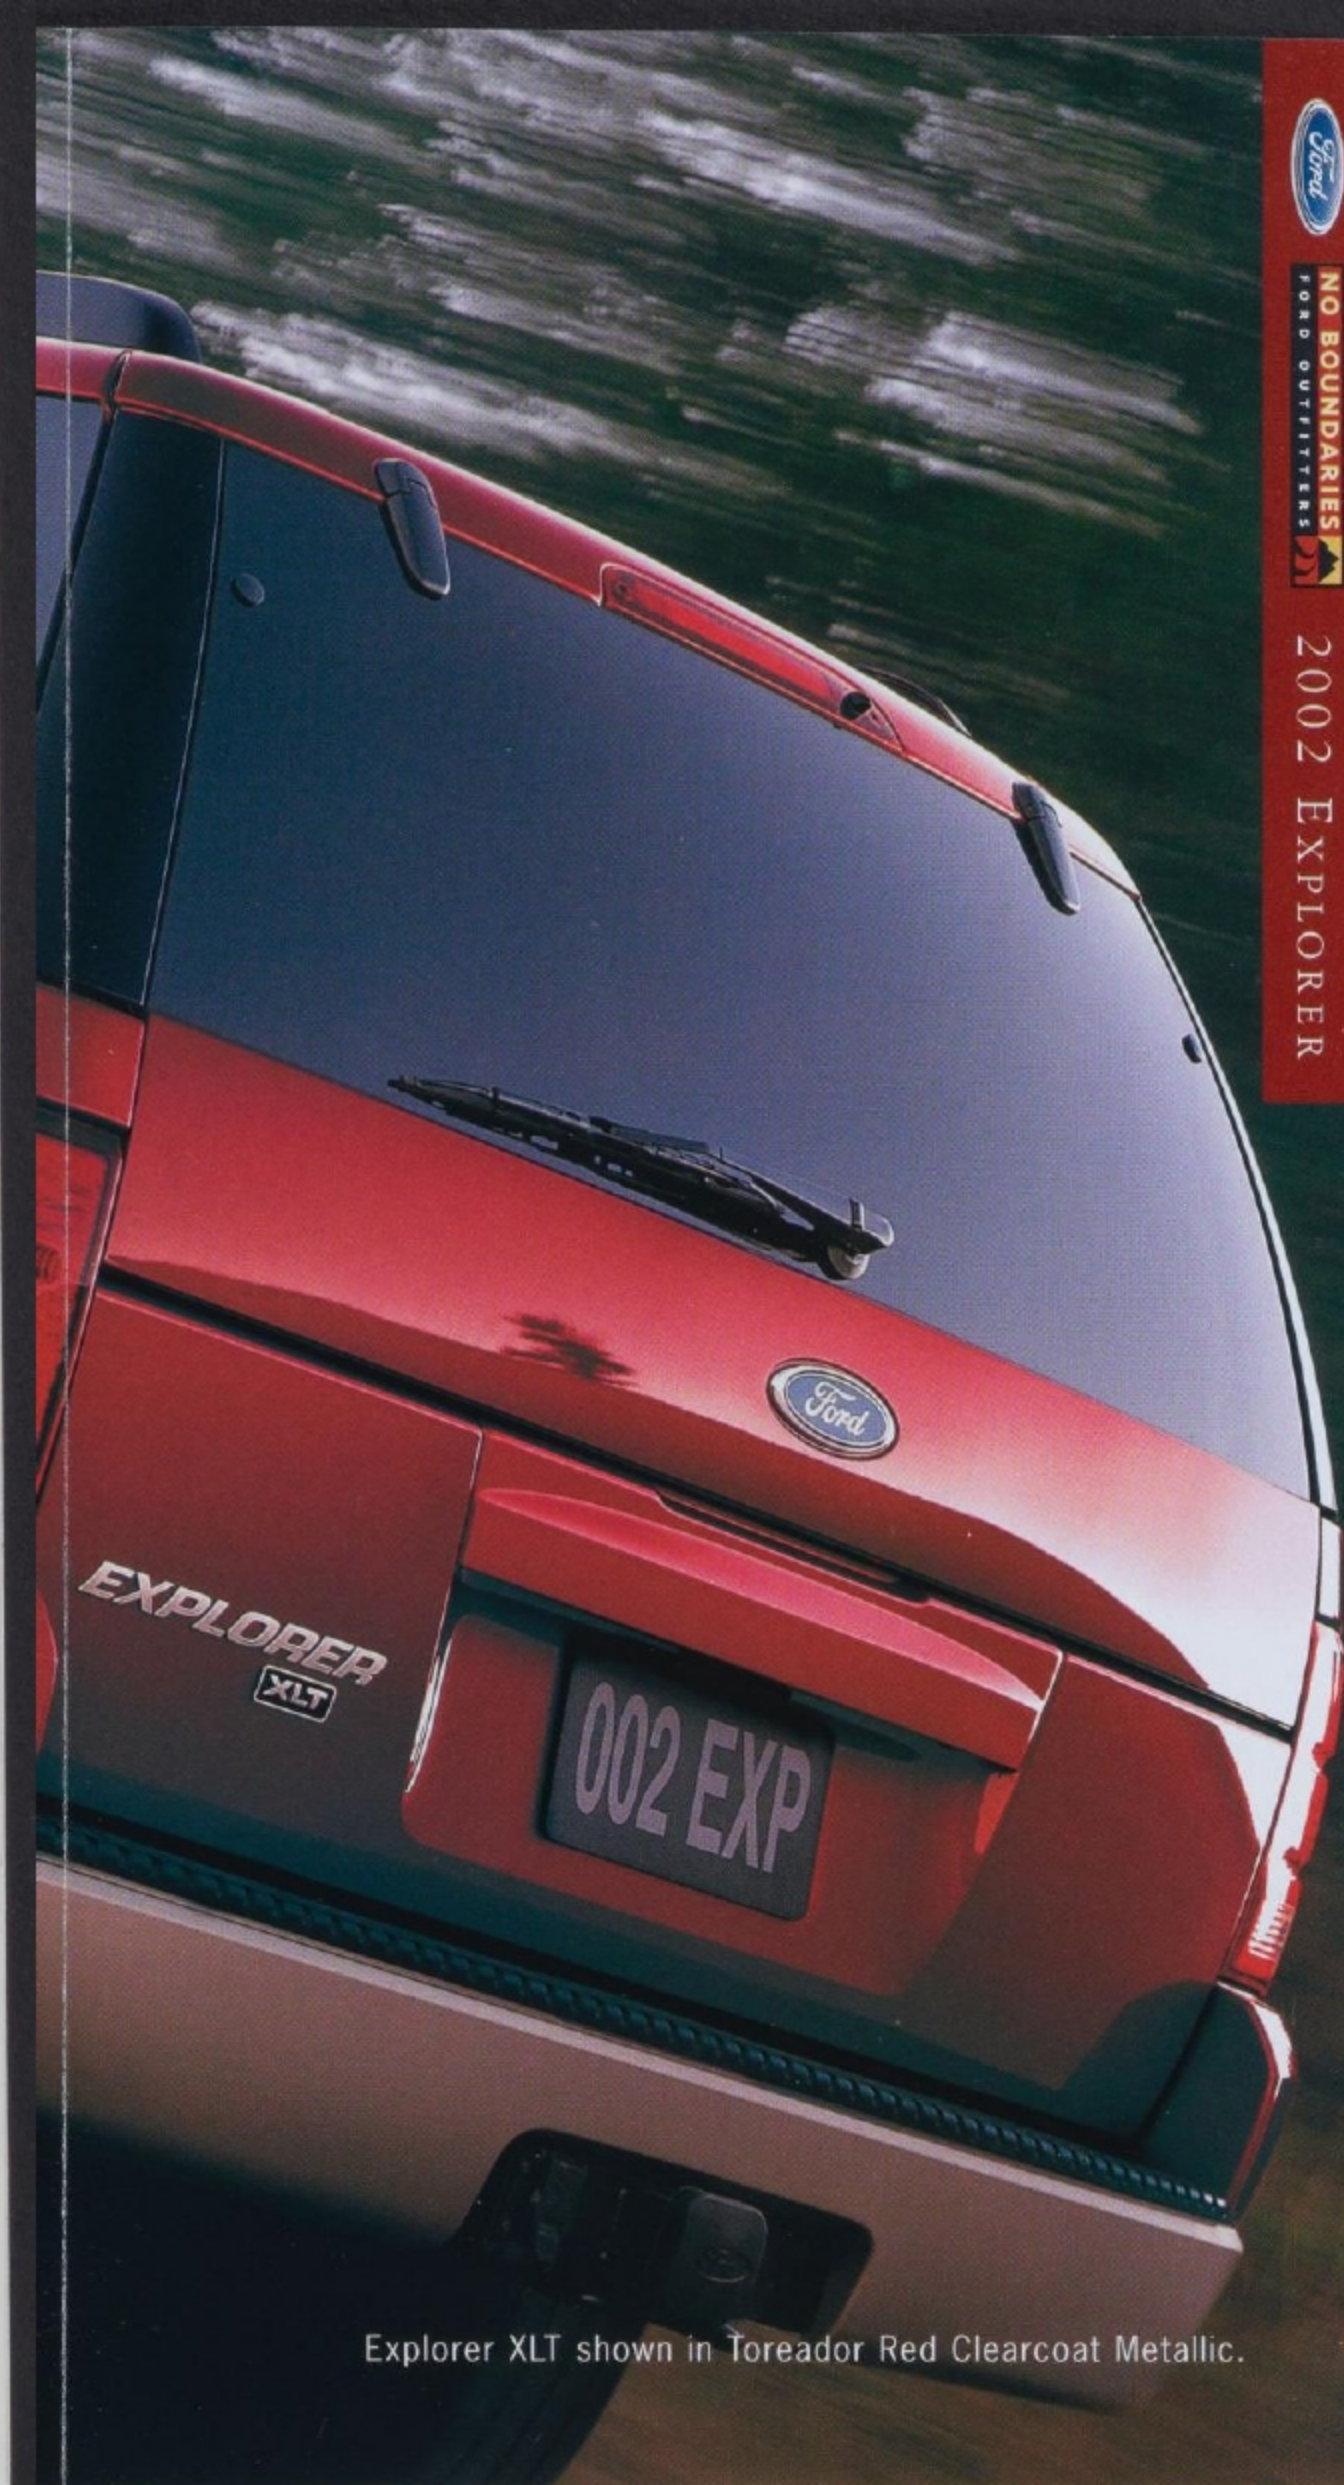

OPEN WIDE AND SAY...

New Explorer takes convenience to a new level. With its lower "liftover" height the bottom of the liftglass is virtually the same height as a shopping cart.

For an effortless entrance and exit, Explorer 2002 has larger door openings, a lower step-in height and a driver's seat that can travel 10" for greater driver comfort.

One of the keys to the increased consumer benefits is a patented not-so-simple engineering breakthrough we call "porthole frame" design. It allowed our engineers to incorporate Explorer's new independent rear suspension for a surprisingly smooth ride over uneven terrain and lower the rear floor for much more interior space.

EXTERIOR OUTFITTING

With two powerful engines, the 210 horsepower 4.0L SOHC V6 (standard) and the new aluminum 239 horsepower 4.6L SOHC V8 (optional), impressive torque and plenty of power in reserve is at your command.

New Explorer goes almost anywhere. Ground clearance has been increased and the stance is now 2.4 inches wider for a smoother even more confident ride. And its wheelbase is now longer to help eliminate a "bouncy" ride.

The optional Reverse Sensing System alerts you to certain objects behind the vehicle with a series of beeps to help you gauge your distance. A fully integrated towing hitch is standard as well as extremely convenient (optional Class III hitch shown).

INTERIOR OUTFITTING

Personal convenience and comfort characterizes everything about the 2002 Explorer. The interior is truly a moving experience. The Eddie Bauer and Limited steering wheel telescopes* to better accommodate you, while their power adjustable pedals* move and the driver's seat travels over 10% further to provide even more comfort.

The available high series floor console is not only wider and deeper, it's handy as can be. There's space for cupholders, a storage compartment and a second row powerpoint.

The available front seat dual-zone climate controls allow driver and passenger to set individual temperature levels and are conveniently located on the steering wheel as well as the dash. The optional Audiophile CD-6 system packs 290-watts of power while housing the 6-disc CD player in the dash.

2002 EXPLORER

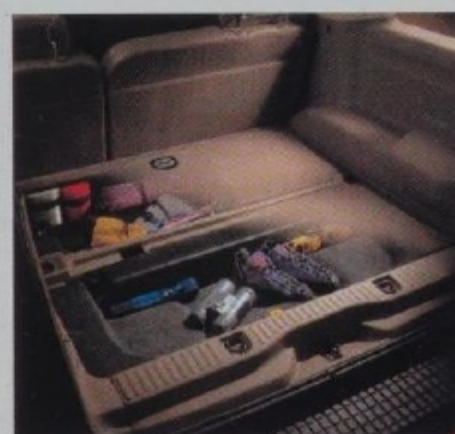

You've never seen this before. An optional third row seat in an Explorer. It's new. It seats two. It folds into the floor. It's terrific.

The good looks of Explorer Limited's leather-trimmed interior are obvious. But did you notice the pedals can adjust (late availability) and the driver's seat can travel up to ten inches for improved driver comfort?

HOW'D WE GET IT SO QUIET IN HERE? SO SAFE?

Actually, the same way we got the rear seats to disappear. Innovative engineering, burning lots of midnight oil and a little magic. And the results? A stiffer bodyshell designed for quieter operation. Extensive noise control measures. And an interior 2.5 inches wider. Plus, incorporating the new independent rear suspension allows the optional 3rd row seat to fold into the floor.

MORE STORAGE The new Explorer makes the most of everything. In this case we found additional storage right underneath our noses. Well, actually, beneath the rear cargo floor.

SAFETY FROM ABOVE

Introducing a whole new level of safety. In certain side impacts, Explorer's new optional side curtain airbags deploy from the headliner to cover up 75% of the 1st and 2nd row side glass.
