Marquis Brougham two-door hardtop

From the makers of the Continental: a great new breakthrough in medium-price cars

For 1969 Lincoln-Mercury leads the way with an exciting lineup of medium-price cars, not only new in looks and performance, in engineering and design, but totally new in their concept of value and luxury.

Marquis . . . Marauder . . . Mercury Monterey . . .

The only medium-price cars you can buy that enjoy common bonds with the foremost motorcar in America today — the distinguished Lincoln Continental.

The only cars that share a level of luxury, convenience and comfort with the most luxurious of them all, the Continental Mark III.

The only medium-price cars built by the men who build the Lincoln Continental. And no one knows more about building luxury motorcars.

Marquis — the most dramatically styled car since the Continental Mark III.

Marauder — the sporty road car designed like a luxury car.

Mercury Monterey — medium-price luxury is easier than ever to enjoy.

Choose yours — and lead the way for 1969 in a car from Lincoln-Mercury.

Marquis: the most dramatically styled car since the Continental Mark III

Introducing the fabulous new Marquis and Marquis Brougham four-door hardtops. One look tells you their proud kinship with the Continental Mark III, the most classic of motorcars. A remarkable level of luxury is apparent everywhere, for the men who make the Marquis also build the Continental—and nobody knows more about luxury. Marquis styling sweeps full length—from richly detailed die-cast grille to boldly massive wrap-around rear bumper. And there's command performance from the powerful 429-cubic inch V-8 and Select-Shift automatic transmission, standard in Marquis and Marquis Brougham. The Brougham offers distinctions of its own: smart vinyl roof, jewel-like Brougham crest, unique ornamentation. Both share advanced styling touches, such as concealed headlamps, ventless side windows with accented glass curvature for super-smooth blending of body and roofline and dramatic full-width taillamps. Marquis and Marquis Brougham—the most dramatically styled cars since the Continental Mark III; the most luxurious medium-priced cars ever!

interior...
uniquely spacious,
dramatically
elegant

A good deal of time was spent designing the sumptuous Brougham interior because you may wish to spend a good deal of time inside it. Twin Comfort lounge seats immediately establish the high level of luxury for which Brougham stands. Each seat is individually adjustable with its own armrest. At your request, optional six-way power seats may be installed for driver only, or driver and passenger. An optional reclining passenger seat is also available. A center armrest highlights the spacious rear compartment. Seats are upholstered with luxurious nylon fabric and vinyl trim, in your choice of black, dark red, dark blue, nugget gold, or dark ivy gold, all specially treated for greater soil resistance and to allow easier cleaning. Simulated burled-walnut inserts add richness to the bright seat side shields. Pleated door trim panels are another luxury touch. You can elect to add Combination AM radio/stereo-sonic tape system, Whisper-Aire conditioner, Tilt steering wheel, Remote-control trunk release or your choice of those options described on pages 30-31. Brougham just as it is, is elegant. You can make it truly magnificent.

New elegance in four-door sedans: Marquis and Marquis Brougham

Only the makers of Continental could bring so classic a look to the medium-price field. The front end, totally and unmistakably new, sets the stage for all the beauty to follow. Its two-tiered die-cast grille houses concealed dual headlamps, allowing an unbroken sweep of gleaming metal when closed. Full park windshield wipers lie virtually flush with the long sculptured hood. On the Brougham the formal roofline is enhanced by the rich vinyl roof, optionally available on the Marquis. Deluxe wheel covers are standard on both models, as are ventless side windows and slender center pillars—all contributing notably to the sleek profile. The exterior beauty has its match in the interior comfort offered by these distinguished sedans. Importantly, there is an abundance of leg, hip, shoulder and head room. Seats are specially padded, contoured and angled for the ultimate in comfort and support. The ride is limousine-like in smoothness and quiet, thanks to Lincoln-Mercury's exclusive road-tuned chassis and suspension design and a new, longer 124-inch wheelbase. Twin Comfort lounge seats in the Brougham allow the driver and passenger individual adjustments. And, of course, there are many options available for Brougham and Marquis; they are listed on pages 30-31.

Marquis Brougham two-door hardtop

Marquis two-door hardtop

Marquis and Marquis Brougham two-door hardtops . . . medium-priced cars despite the luxury car look

Nowhere is the Continental influence more apparent than in this pair of striking two-door hardtops. Nor are the Continental attributes limited to styling details alone. Marquis is astride a full 124-inch wheelbase. With wider track, large front springs, extra insulation and padding, enlarged stabilizer bar and ultra-quiet exhaust system—the overall ride is surpassed in hushed smoothness only by the Continental itself. The Marquis luggage compartment accommodates 20.6-cubic feet of travel needs. In Brougham models, individually adjustable Twin Comfort lounge seats with dual center armrests are standard. Marquis seats are upholstered in luxurious cloth and vinyl, all vinyl, or, at your option, seating surfaces of glove soft leather accented with touches of vinyl. Seats are deeply padded, as are armrests, instrument panel and overhead areas. And to add even more luxury and convenience, select options for your Marquis from the list on pages 30-31.

Standard Marquis equipment includes:

429-2V V-8 engine . . . Select-Shift transmission . . . ventless side windows . . . full width taillamps . . . dual lower body paint stripes . . . concealed headlamps . . . full length curb molding . . . deluxe wheel covers . . . electric clock . . . rear roof pillar lights on hardtop and sedan . . . front door courtesy lights . . . automatic parking brake release . . . luxury steering wheel with wood-toned spokes and rim . . . bright seat side shields with simulated burled-walnut woodgrain insert

Standard Marquis Brougham equipment includes all Marquis equipment plus:

vinyl roof with Brougham crest . . . bright upper body side molding (replaces dual lower body paint stripes) . . . cloth-and-vinyl Twin Comfort lounge seats with individual front seat armrests . . . rear seat center armrest . . . unique door panels with door pull handle

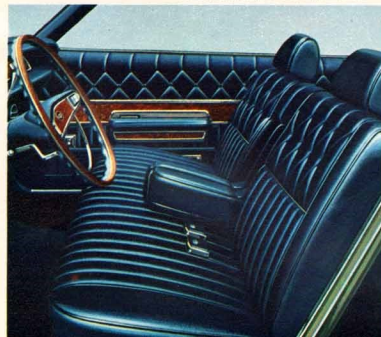

Marquis convertible—drama under the sun

You can begin and end your search for a luxury convertible right here. Marquis has all the dash a convertible should have without sacrificing the comfort of a luxury car. Vent-less side windows allow a panoramic view with the top down. With the top up, a scratch-resistant, non-yellowing tempered glass rear window is in place without having to be zippered. Adding to the excitement is a new 429-cubic inch 2-barrel V-8 linked to a Select-Shift transmission, that shifts automatically or lets you run through the gears. All standard. An all-vinyl interior is standard. An optional interior features seating surfaces of leather accented with touches of vinyl. And good news for rear seat passengers: there's nearly a foot more hiproom and shoulder room this year, thanks to a trimmed-down convertible top design.

Marauder: makes a sporting thing of luxury

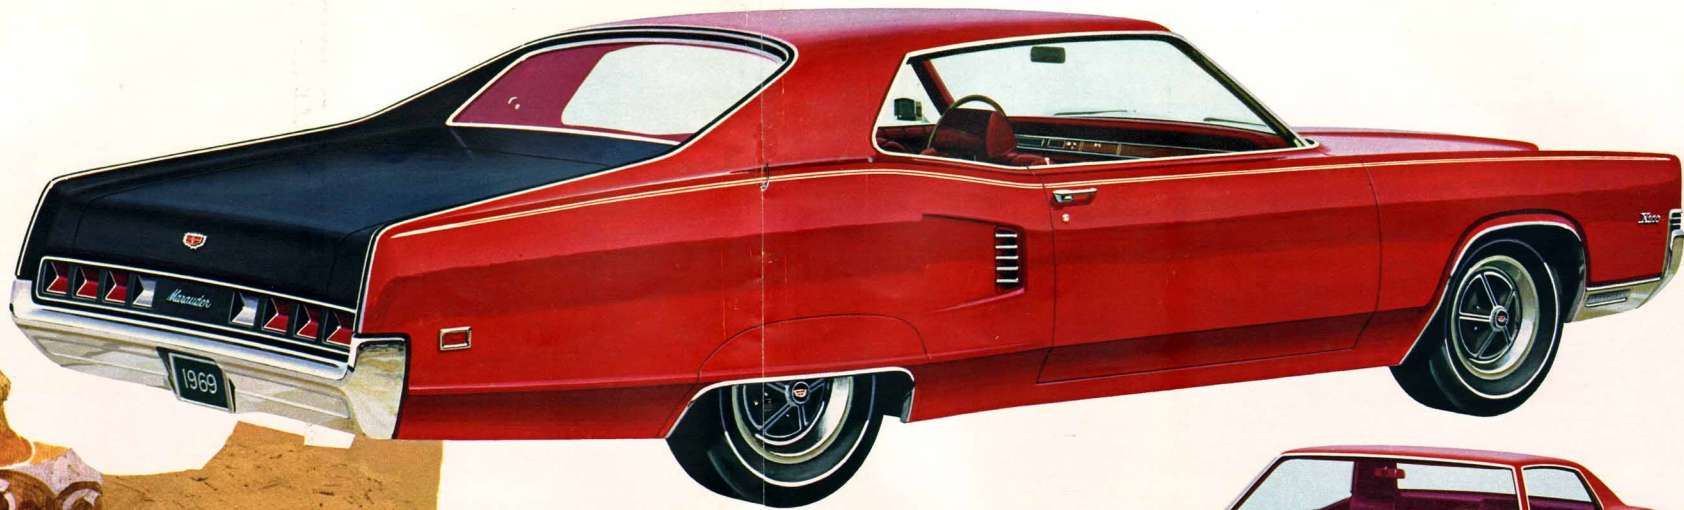

Lincoln-Mercury presents the all-new Marauder . . . with the prowling instincts of Cougar, the elegance of Continental. Unique from elegant grille to distinctive tunnel fastback. Sporty in its low-profile, long-hood, short-deck design nestled on a snug 121" wheelbase. With wide stance front and rear, and a powerful 390-cubic inch V-8 to bring you the feel, ride and performance of a true road machine. And Marauder is authentically luxurious; from deep-loop carpeting to warm simulated burled-walnut inserts on doors and instrument panel. Even more individuality is available for Marauder by ordering AM/FM stereo radio, Vinyl roof. Wire wheel covers and other options on pages 30-31.

Standard Marauder equipment includes:

- 390-2V V-8 engine
- concealed headlamps
- tunneled rear window
- unique taillamps with surrounding low gloss two-tone paint
- dual thin upper body paint stripes
- ventless side windows
- bright rear roof peak molding
- cloth-and-vinyl interior
- Marauder name embossed in simulated woodgrain instrument panel appliqué
- front side marker with bright molding
- simulated woodgrain appliqué on door trim panels

Marauder X-100...the elegant way to go all out

Vinyl bucket seats and center sports console available at no extra cost

X-100... the name suggests all-out performance, a custom edition car for those who know and savor sportiness, distinctive styling and sophisticated luxury. And what the name suggests, the car confirms. Powerfully, with a 429-cubic inch, four-barrel V-8, 360 horsepower strong and Select-Shift transmission as convincing evidence. Stylishly, with tunnel fastback design, dual upper body paint striping, and a boldly dramatic front end. Luxuriously, with three interior seating arrangements to choose from, including the all-vinyl bucket seat and center sports console format shown at left. And, in addition to the regular Marauder features listed on the previous page, you get these exclusive X-100 features:

- 429-4V V-8 engine
 - Select-Shift automatic transmission
 - styled aluminum wheels
 - WSW belted wide tread tires
 - rear wheel fender skirts with bright molding
 - complementary sports tone matte finish*
 - rim-blow steering wheel
 - electric clock
 - simulated woodgrain appliqué on door panels
 - choice of three seating arrangements
- *Sports tone may be deleted and cost deducted from base price

Marauder X-100 Twin Comfort lounge seats with reclining seat option

Marauder X-100 interiors: luxurious or sporty—the choice is yours

You can have X-100 with any of three seating arrangements suited to your likes and needs. Luxury is yours in handsome bench seats with seating surfaces of glove soft leather accented with touches of vinyl. Full-width seats are specially padded, contoured and angled for the ultimate in comfort. Standard in Marauder X-100. Optional in Marquis. For a sporty touch, order the all-vinyl bucket seats with center sports console shown on page 17.

Or choose all-vinyl Twin Comfort lounge seats, that rare combination of luxury and convenience. You can see and feel the luxury in the deep pleating, thick padding and custom-tailored design. And you will appreciate the convenience of dual center armrests, individually adjustable driver and passenger seats and spacious size. Twin Comfort lounge seats are also available at moderate extra cost in Marquis in your choice of all-vinyl or cloth-and-vinyl.

Mercury Monterey Custom and Monterey 4-door hardtops—they make such beautiful sense

Monterey offers a new high level of luxury for 1969 — at a popular price. Take the stunning 4-door hardtop. The classic appearance is evident from new grille to low side profile and distinctive new taillights. Ventless side windows add a smart styling touch, while reducing wind noise considerably. Fine-car touches are numerous . . . luxury interiors, deep-loop nylon carpeting, larger armrests and contour padded seats. In Monterey Custom luxury is carried a step further with the addition of a front seat center armrest, vinyl door pull handles, deluxe steering wheel, rear door courtesy light switches and your choice of either cloth-and-vinyl or all-vinyl seats. All to convince you that in luxury at a popular price, Lincoln-Mercury leads the way.

Standard Monterey Custom equipment includes:
 390-2V V-8 engine . . . 3-speed manual transmission . . . integrated parking and side marker lamps . . . bright curb and wheel opening moldings . . . Dual upper body thin paint stripes . . . "Custom" script identification . . . deluxe wheel covers . . . front seat center armrest . . . vinyl door pull handles . . . embroidery on front seat back . . . seat side shields . . . deluxe steering wheel . . . rear door courtesy light switches . . . deluxe cloth-and-vinyl or all-vinyl interior . . . dome light . . . simulated woodgrain instrument and door trim panels and armrest appliqué . . . deep-loop carpeting

Mercury Monterey and Monterey Custom 4-door sedans...exciting by design

Monterey and Monterey Custom 4-door sedans not only inspire admiration, but excitement, too. Longer, lower body. All-new inside and out. In all, more than just a hint of Continental styling. Consider size, too. A long 124" wheelbase with wider front and rear tread and full 4-coil spring suspension brings a new level of riding comfort. Overall length is greater, too, making for more interior room and additional luggage space. Monterey delivers outstanding performance from its powerful 390-cubic inch V-8 that uses regular fuel. Both Monterey interiors feature simulated woodgrain appliques on doors and instrument panel, plush nylon carpeting and luxurious cloth-and-vinyl upholstery. If you wish, an all-vinyl interior may be specified at extra cost for Monterey or as standard equipment on Monterey Custom.

tom. You can add more excitement by ordering Select-Shift automatic transmission, Power seats, AM/FM stereo radio, Whisper-Aire conditioner, Vinyl roof and other options listed on pages 30-31.

Standard Monterey equipment includes:

390-2V V-8 engine . . . fully synchronized 3-speed manual transmission . . . full park windshield wipers . . . integrated parking and side marker lamps . . . bright wheel opening moldings . . . bright upper body and trunk lid moldings . . . special exterior ornamentation . . . simulated woodgrain instrument panel . . . deep-loop carpeting . . . deluxe cloth-and-vinyl interior . . . simulated woodgrain door trim panels . . . dome light

Mercury Monterey Custom and Monterey 2-door hardtops... the meeting of two worlds

The Monterey and Monterey Custom 2-door hardtops make it easy to choose between a practical family car and a car to have fun with — they're both! Each offers full-size comfort with a good deal of luxury. Each has a sporty flavor, due in no small part to provocative new styling bumper to bumper and a brawny 390-cubic inch, 2-barrel V-8. You'll appreciate all the room and comfort and enjoy the bold new looks and performance. Monterey features include curved and ventless side windows, deep-loop nylon carpeting, wood-toned instrument and door panels, and luxurious cloth-and-vinyl interior. Monterey Custom is even more luxurious with deluxe wheel covers, dual upper body paint stripes, front seat center armrest, deluxe steering wheel and vinyl door pull handles. Either way you're in for new driving pleasure and excitement. And if options and accessories interest you, check the full list you can choose from on pages 30-31. Standard Monterey equipment is listed on page 23. Standard Monterey Custom equipment is listed on page 20.

Monterey convertible...designed to change some minds

Aside from its obvious beauty, quiet substantial ride and outstanding interior luxury there are several other good reasons why those who usually look away when you say convertible will be admiring Monterey this year. Ventless side windows and an ultra-snug fitting top reduce wind noise. A scratch-resistant, yellow-resistant, easy-to-clean rear window of super-tempered glass is standard. Monterey's handsome all-vinyl interior cleans with a damp cloth. Hip and shoulder room have been increased nearly one foot in the rear seat due to a newly-designed convertible top. The standard 390-cubic inch V-8, longer wheelbase, wider wheel tread; the beauty, ride and luxury—all might get you thinking about owning a Monterey. The long list of options will give you even more to think about. Standard Monterey equipment is on page 23.

Mercury Monterey cloth-and-vinyl interior — Deep, foam-padded seats and full-width wood-toned instrument panel establish a new level of value and quality in Monterey's price class.

Mercury Monterey all-vinyl interior — Wear resistant, all-vinyl seats are standard in the Monterey convertible and available as optional equipment in Monterey hard-tops and sedan.
