ADELAIDE — The Ford Falcon has won the 2001 Gold Award for Automotive Engineering Excellence for its new safety package on the AU11 model.

We have ignition

> The Australasian Society of Automotive Engineers recently gave Falcon's safety features their Gold Award for engineering excellence. No surprise really, as Falcon was the first locally produced family sedan to offer standard driver and passenger airbags, and is the only one to come with energy management seatbelts and a laminated impact protection panel. Which makes it easy to see why other family cars might feel threatened by Falcon, and why you'll feel more comfortable in one.
